In the Spotlight

Linda J. Daniels

Linda J. Daniels is a native of Fernandina, Florida. She is the mother of two children, Veronique and LeRoy and grandmother to Princess Sarah Jean and La'Trell Cordae'. Ms. Daniels attended Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach, Florida where she earned the Bachelor of Science degree in Management. She received her Master of Science in Management degree from Belhaven College in Jackson, Mississippi last year and is currently pursuing her Ph.D. in Community College Leadership at Mississippi State University.

Ms. Daniels has been employed with Tougaloo College since November of 1993. She has served the College in several capacities including director of special events, assistant vice president for institutional advancement, interim vice president for institutional advancement and for the past four years, has served as the special assistant to the president. Throughout her tenure, she has been a very hard working, diligent and loyal member of the Tougaloo College family. No task has been too large or too small for her to fulfill.

On September 15, 2006, Ms. Daniels will leave Tougaloo College to assume the position of director of development at Jackson State University. We wish her the very best as she takes on new challenges and we cannot thank her enough for the invaluable contributions she's made to Tougaloo College throughout her tenure.

CONGRATULATIONS, BEST WISHES FOR MUCH SUCCESS IN YOUR NEW ENDEAVOR AND GODSPEED, MS. DANIELS!!

The Washington Monthly College Rankings. Unlike other college guides, such as U.S. News and World Report, this guide asks not what colleges can do for you, but what colleges are doing for the country. It's a guide for all Americans who are concerned about our institutions of higher learning. Are our colleges making good use of our tax dollars? Are they producing graduates who can keep our nation competitive in a changing world? Are they, in short, doing well by doing good? This is the guide that tells you.

TOUGALOO COLLEGE IS RANKED #18, THE HIGHEST RANKED HBCU ON THE LIST OF 202 COLLEGES AND THE HIGHEST RANKED MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE! GO TOUGALOO!!!!

The Princeton Review selects Tougaloo College as one of the Best in the Southeast! The 2006-2007 list includes Tougaloo College among the elite group of 146 colleges out of 790 colleges in the Southeast that it ranks as THE BEST!!! GO TOUGALOO!! GO TOUGALOO!!
