Ten Reasons to Invest in Tougaloo College's 1869 Fund (formerly known as the Annual Fund)

- Attract and maintain talented faculty in each department.
- Provide need- and merit-based financial aid to meet each student's demonstrated need.
- Keep our residence halls comfortable and safe, and to complete wiring all of these facilities for access to the information superhighway.
- Outfit science and computer laboratories with latest equipment.
- Renew subscriptions to scholarly journals, and keep our library up-to-date with information that our students need to support their educational experience.
- Keep the lights in the classroom glowing, the heat in residence halls pumping, and to meet many other essential needs that make the Tougaloo Experience possible.

2007-2008 CALENDAR OF CONVOCATIONS

Convocations: As a part of the Tougaloo College total educational experience, students are required to attend convocations throughout the academic year. These series of thematic assemblies are designed to inform and to inspire further thought, study, reflection, and discussion between faculty, students, and others in the College community. Convocations also serve to extend the College's core curriculum; broaden students' awareness of the liberal arts disciplines and professional fields; prepare students to be able to extract information, communicate effectively and learn essential presentation skills; and to highlight the College's traditions.

Five (5) convocations are required for the entire College community to attend together: President's Opening Convocation; Provost's Convocation; Founders' Convocation; Thanksgiving Convocation; and the Honors' Convocation. Unless otherwise noted, convocations are held on Wednesdays at the 10:00 a.m. hour.

Distinguished Presidential Lecture Series: Distinguished guest speakers are invited to speak on issues of interest to the College community. The lecture series are also designed to enhance the academic experience and to encourage intellectual communication across all disciplines. For the 2007-2008 academic year, three Distinguished Presidential lectures are scheduled. The entire College community and alumni are invited to attend.
